

Alta Gracia

DIGNITY AND JUSTICE ON THE JOB

An Alta Gracia Story

W R C

WORKER RIGHTS
CONSORTIUM

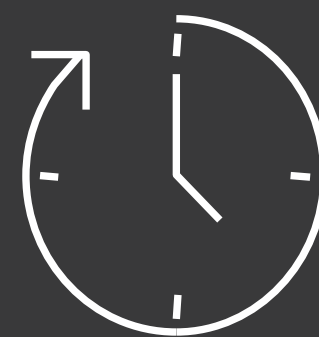

Living Wage Standard:

- $500 per month
- 2.5x the Dominican minimum wage for Free Trade Zone workers
- Review of payroll records for 12 pay periods

Respect for Freedom of Association

Quick Action to Correct
Violations

Consultation with Workers
during Suspension of Operations

“[Patricia’s] first pay stub from 2010 still sits in a frame on a coffee table in her living room... ‘I couldn’t believe this. It was like a dream come true,’ she says.”

The Guardian

Dominican Republic

'Dignity and respect': Dominican factory vows to never be a sweatshop

Alta Gracia, which aims to 'treat workers decently' and pay a living wage, is a far cry from the grueling conditions many of the workers previously experienced

Milli Legrain in Villa Altagracia

Thu 14 Feb 2019
06.00 EST

▲ The Alta Gracia garment factory in the Dominican Republic. Photograph: Milli Legrain